These things happen everyday to kids that are left unprotected with a smart phone and social media, including Snapchat and Instagram!

Most kids today know more than their parents do when it comes to technology, which convinces many parents to take the parental path of least resistance. It's not hopeless! There are options, and you need a plan. As technology experts and the founders of GSG Computers, Inc. a technology company in Hendersonville, TN for over 20 years, we've seen first-hand the havoc and destruction that technology can create in kids' lives.

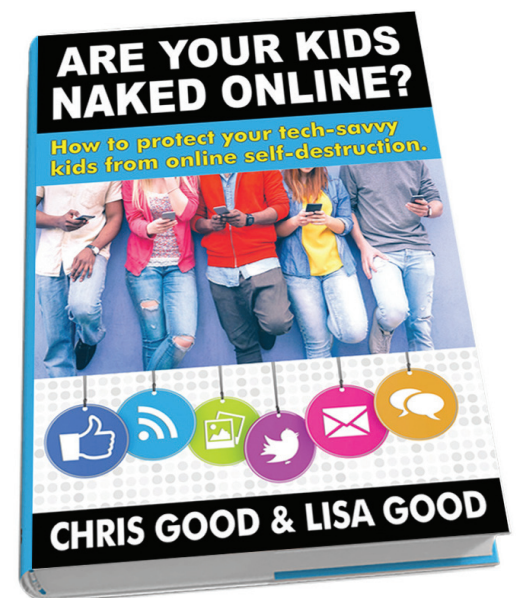

Our own nephew got in trouble on the dark web and it ruined his future. After that, we wrote our book to help other parents, teachers, counselors...realize the dangers of the technology that kids are using every day, recognize the signs that kids may be using technology in a way that can get them in trouble, and provide ways to protect kids from destroying their future or their lives.

Knowing what the options are, what would work best for your family, and developing a strategy is perhaps one of the most challenging aspects of parenting in today's digital world. Are Your Kids Naked Online gives you guidance from technology experts, without the geek speak, on how to build a plan to protect your kids from ruining their future online.

We've spoken at Harvard, NASDAQ, Mercedes and Coca-Cola, and have been invited on over 35 TV shows on ABC, CBS, NBC, and FOX TV stations across the country about the importance of protecting your children online.

"I am a mom and therapist who sees adolescents regularly including victims of sex trafficking and other child predators. Sexting, sending Nudes, extreme bullying, porn and gaming obsessions addictions are topics of counseling that I hear regularly. I recommend every parent read this. Easy read!" ~ CD, Amazon Review ★★★★★
