DESCRIPTION

Nothing says American Craftsmanship like the Frye Harness Boot. Inspired by the Civil War cavalry, this iconic boot is American craftsmanship at its best. Not for the faint of heart, this boot is uncompromising and gets better with age. Unlined with rugged, rubber bottoms, it needs a certain type to make this boot her own. Made in USA and sourced from domestic and imported products.

LEATHER CARE

HOW TO

MAINTAIN YOUR LEATHER

- 1 Leather should be clean and dry before any product application.
- 2 Spray treatment can help to waterproof leathers and protect against pesky stains caused from day-to-day use
- 3 Use a Neutral Cream Polish to revitalize color and shine

OUR HERITAGE IS BACKED BY
QUALITY AND CRAFT

With a heritage rooted in craftsmanship, Frye awakens the curious, the courageous, the adventurous in all of us.

THE ORIGINAL. THE AUTHENTIC. THE ONLY.

In March 1863, John A. Frye opened the doors of a small shop on Elm Street in Marlboro, Massachusetts. This is our history and our heritage, told in every stitch of every shoe we've made for nearly 160 years: across cultural shifts and changes in fashion, for generation upon generation.

THE FRYE STORY

INNOVATION IN THE PURSUIT OF TIMELESSNESS

1863

THE FRYE COMPANY FOUNDED

In 1863, John A. Frye opened the doors to the very first Frye shop on Elm Street in Marlboro, MA, paving the way for countless generations of Frye artisans dedicated entirely to the art of craftsmanship.

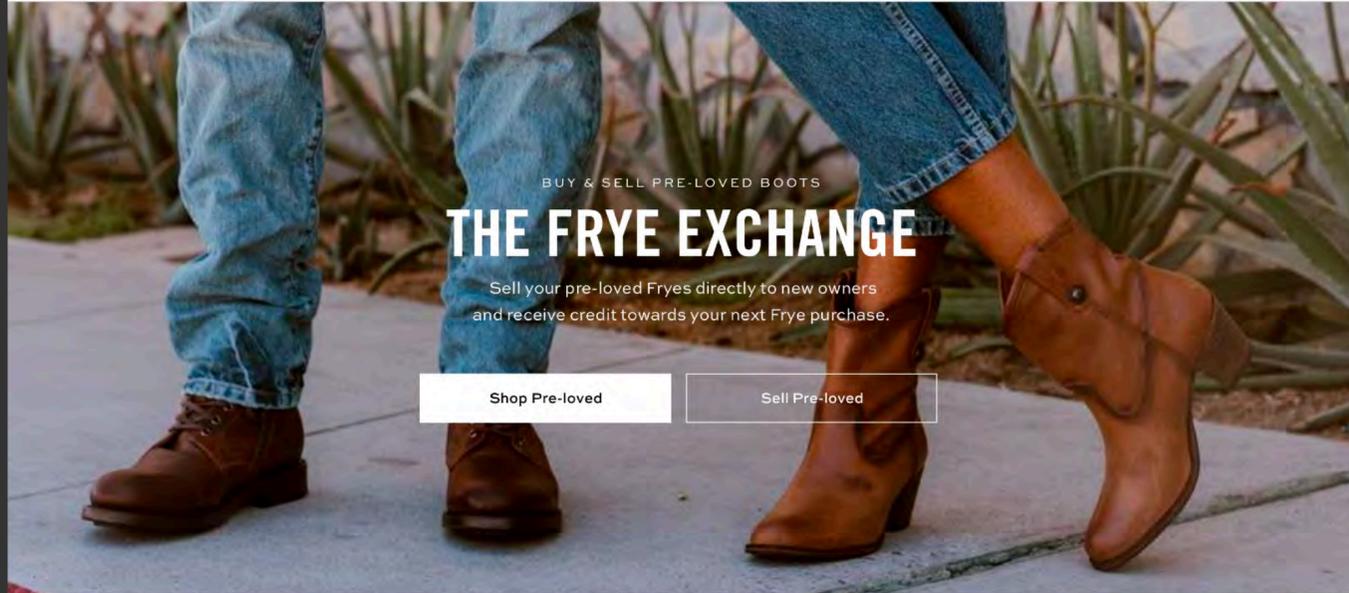

1888

THE VERY FIRST FRYE BOOT

1888 marks the year that the very first boot ever was made by The Frye Company. With its precision stitching and quality leather, this boot is testimony to Frye's unparalleled craftsmanship. Housed today at the Marlboro Historical Society, this boot was the beginning of a storied commitment to design expertise and quality.
